

Curwen Print Day - 2007

June 2007 - The whole school had the opportunity again to work with artists from the Curwen Print Centre, Chilford Hall.

First they had to sketch a drawing on paper which they then transferred to polystyrene. There was a seaside theme to many of the pictures as the infants have been studying the seaside for topic work.

Then it was time to roll the paint on the polystyrene sheet.

Some used rollers and some paintbrushes. Everyone had to be careful not to put too much paint on.

Once painted the pictures were taken to the presses where they were 'squeezed' between pieces of paper by turning the big handle.

The paint from the polystyrene picture transferred to the paper and below shows the wonderful results of their hard work!
