

'Underfoot Museum Day'

On 8th December 2011 parents and friends were invited to come and see what the children had been working on during the Autumn Term.

Class 4: 'The Anglo Saxons' was the topic for Class 4 this term. A visit to Sutton Hoo earlier in the term brought the subject alive and they were able to demonstrate what they had learnt to family and friends. Visitors could dress up, be instructed in how to tie and dye and be shown how they could be buried (when dead!). There was a lovely model of a burial mound made by the children showing what might be found alongside the bodies. Power point presentations were there to view and show how blood thirsty the warriors were at that time. There were quizzes to do, code breakers to work out and old coins to look at.
